

Senate Starts Work Today On Districting

LANSING (AP)—A new crisis in congressional apportionment today cut short the Easter vacation of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

A three-judge federal panel ruled Friday in Detroit that Michigan's 19 congressmen must be elected at large unless the Legislature can reapportion the districts in time for the Nov. 3 election.

Sen. Farrell Roberts, R-Pontiac, committee chairman, at once summoned the other six judiciary members to Lansing to study the impact of the panel's ruling that the population disparity among the 1963 districts was too great.

Roberts also temporarily withdrew his own name from the race for the Republican nomination to Congress from the 19th District, which was created in 1963.

Gov. T. John Lesinski said he would submit a plan this week in which district population would vary no more than 16,000 residents from the most populous district to the smallest. The present extreme variance is 190,000.

Lesinski said that based on past voting records, his plan would result in election of 10 Republicans and 9 Democrats. Republicans now hold an 11-8 advantage in Michigan's congressional delegation.

The Judiciary Committee's return today was two days ahead of most of the rest of the Legislature, which begins regular session Wednesday.

A new apportionment map would require a two-thirds majority in each house to become law.

Only three weeks remain before the deadline set by election officials to start arranging precinct boundaries needed to schedule an orderly election.

Italian Airline Crash Kills 45

NAPLES, Italy (AP)—The bodies of 45 persons killed in an Easter Eve airliner crash on Mt. Vesuvius lay in a Naples morgue today as three investigators sought the cause of the tragedy.

Officials said it would take some days before identification could be completed. Most of the bodies were too burned and mangled to be identified except with the help of dental charts.

The 40 passengers included 8 Americans, 20 French, 7 Italians, 4 Swiss and an Englishwoman. All five crew members were Italian.

The plane, an Alitalia Viscount, crashed and burned 90 minutes before midnight Saturday. It was coming in for a landing at Naples after a flight south from Turin, Milan and Rome. Flying through fog and rain, the plane hit a high lava hump jutting out halfway up the side of the 3,700-foot volcano.

Battle To Pass Rights Bill May Last For Weeks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey leads off with a challenge today as Senate backers of the civil rights bill launch an all-out campaign aimed at winning passage of the controversial measure.

The Senate battle is expected to last for weeks. Although today is the first day the bill is before the Senate, opponents have been talking against it for almost a month.

The subject of the civil rights bill was brought up by newsmen late Saturday at a news conference President Johnson held at his Texas ranch home.

In reply to a request for his views on school boycotts, the President said "We believe in the right of petition as given under the Constitution," but he said he believed the civil rights bill would be a long step toward solving problems that result in petitions.

Asked if he thought it would be possible to get a cloture vote to cut off the expected Senate filibuster against the bill, Johnson said: "I haven't gone into that. I think that will have to be determined after the debate. I don't know whether it will be necessary or not."

In his prepared Senate speech today, Humphrey said bipartisan backers of the civil rights bill are anxious for "full and fair debate."

The Minnesota, assistant Democratic leader and floor manager for the bill, said "We are also willing to come to a decision on each title of the bill and on the bill itself."

"We are willing to let a majority of the Senate say 'yes' or 'no' on voting rights, public accommodations, school desegregation, equal employment opportunity and the other provisions of this legislation," he said.

Then in a direct challenge to the bill's opponents, led by Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., Humphrey expressed hope that they "will be equally willing to permit the Senate to work its will, after an opportunity for a searching examination and analysis of each and every provision."

Injury Forces Col. Glenn Out Of Senate Race

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Former astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., withdrew today from the Ohio U.S. Senate campaign because of injuries from a bathroom fall last month.

"No man has a right to ask for a seat in either branch of the Congress merely because of a specific event such as orbiting the earth in a space craft," Glenn told newsmen after one of his physicians said participation in the campaign would be detrimental to his health and recovery.

His statement was made at the Air Force hospital where he was brought March 6 to recover from inner ear damage. Glenn's announcement ended weeks of speculation on how the injury would affect the future of the spaceman turned politician.

The ear injury impaired Glenn's sense of balance and curtailed his plans to retire from the Marine Corps March 1 to enter the Ohio Senate race. Glenn said he sent a telegram to Ohio Secretary of State Ted Brown requesting that his name be taken off the Democratic ballot.

The Marine Corps lieutenant colonel said he might return to his home near the National Aeronautics Space Administration center at Houston within a week or so.

As to his future plans, Glenn said: "Perhaps there will be other opportunities for service to our country or be a later time when I can conduct the type of campaign I think every candidate should conduct."

Glenn said tests of his condition by specialists "have led to the conclusion that the conditions causing my difficulties will probably not be resolved for at least a number of months."

"Doctors have advised that carrying on in a work status only aggravates the condition and can delay recovery, with the possibility that agitation would develop into a chronic situation from which recovery might be much more difficult," he said.

"To make full recovery most probable, they strongly recommend that I discontinue any plans for activities for at least the next several months."

Glenn had been prevented from actively campaigning until he had retired from the Marine Corps. His release from the corps had been postponed pending his recovery from the bathroom fall.

Blizzard Nips Chicago Parade

CHICAGO (AP)—A heavy snowstorm left a blanket of white across the Chicago area Easter Sunday and the wintry weather scene made the 10th day of spring look like Christmas.

The Weather Bureau, along with the city's millions, was surprised by the freak storm.

Up to nine inches of snow fell in some areas. The official depth of seven inches at Midway Airport was the heaviest on record for Easter, topping the previous high of 6.4 inches set on Easter Sunday, April 4, 1920.

The usual Easter parades were missing. Women, anxious to show their Easter finery, had little chance to do so except at churches and parties. Heavy winter coats, boots, umbrellas and rain scarves were in style and necessary to ward off the blowing and drifting snow.

"Merry Christmas" was the facetious greeting heard as thousands trudged through the deep snow to Easter church services. The snow started shortly after sunrise and continued until late in the day.

Weekend Traffic Accidents Kill 14 In Michigan

By The Associated Press

Two Grand Rapids women en route home after attending Easter night church services were killed, and 12 others died in Michigan traffic accidents during the weekend.

Mrs. Julia Bennett, 58, and Mrs. Christine Cooper, 53, died when their car was struck by an auto which ran a red light. Grand Rapids police said. Four persons in the second car were injured, none critically, officers said. The two women were returning home after church observances, police said.

Police were investigating to determine who was driving the second car after one man ran from the scene, officers said.

President Stays Another Day On Ranch Vacation

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson is extending the Easter holiday he says is no vacation into another day or two around the LBJ Ranch.

Again today no appointments were announced for the chief executive. That's been the pattern for his stay here, now in its fifth day.

But Johnson has been getting in some work—a president always does. And he sort of grumbled, "haven't had one," when asked Sunday how he was enjoying his Easter vacation.

Over the weekend, the President speedily proclaimed earthquake ravaged Alaska a disaster area and mustered federal help for the state as reports flowed in from the scene and from Washington.

Among other things, Johnson got in some paper work, announced some appointments and drafted a bid to Congress to set up a committee to find out why farmers are getting less for food and housewives are paying more.

Death Count Over 100 In Alaskan Earthquake

Crescent City Cleanup Begins After Church

CRESCENT CITY, Calif. (AP)—There was work to do, Easter Sunday or not.

Dozens of men, after sharing in Christendom's most triumphant anniversary, went home and exchanged their church finery for the grimmest clothes they could find.

Then they went out to the rubble-strewn, tortured places hit by the tidal wave from Friday's terrible Alaska earthquake and started cleaning up. A grim kind of spirit marked their toil.

They knew the record — 11 dead and 15 missing and about 17 hurt. More than 300 buildings four streets deep on 29 blocks had been demolished. And an estimated total of $50 million in damages lost to the water-borne horror.

Four waves, propelled across the sea from Alaska at hundreds of miles an hour, struck the city starting at 12:09 a.m. The first was mild. The town of 3,000 figured that was all.

"They went back to sleep," said a civil defense worker.

The second wave, also moderate, struck at 12:30 a.m. and then a third wave at 12:45. Still not bad.

The time was 1:40. The fourth wave arrived.

The battering-ram force of the advancing and receding tidal wave wrought havoc that tossed cars over like toys, breached concrete walls, wiped out complete inventories in a wink, and left some 150 businesses as worthless as so much garbage. About 350 persons were left homeless, but the Red Cross found temporary homes for them.

A looter was arrested on the beach as he stood knee deep in water filling his Easter basket with goodies floating out of a supermarket.

Graham Rally Draws 35,000

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—

Evangelist Billy Graham's Easter appearance before an integrated audience of more than 35,000 was hailed as a tremendous inspirational success by Negroes and white persons.

The gathering at Legion Field, a football stadium in Birmingham, was the largest integrated audience in Alabama's history. It also was the largest religious gathering in the state.

Rigid security precautions were in force, but there were no incidents. The city has been the scene of racial violence in the past.

"Billy Graham has brought out the best in us," said Mayor Albert Boutwell.

A white minister, Dr. John Turner, said, "After waiting some 15 years for such a visitation as Billy Graham and his team, I am moved almost beyond expression to the outpouring of confidence in our fellow man as seen today."

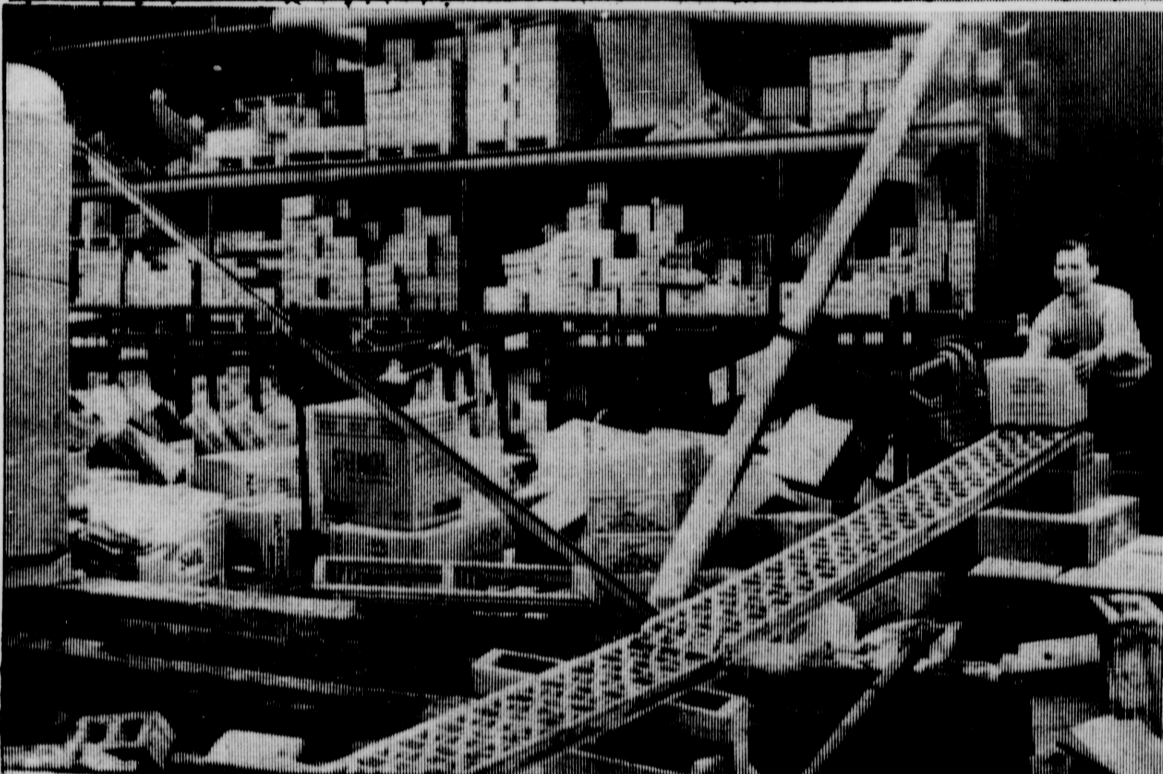

A Negro minister, the Rev. J. L. Ware, said, "It is my candid opinion that this great Christian service will prove to be the turning point in changing the outlook and image of Birmingham into a city of peace and tranquility and prosperity for all people."

Waitress Killed By Gunman In Saginaw Sunday

SAGINAW (AP)—A waitress was shot and killed and a patron wounded at a restaurant Sunday. Police arrested a man whom they identified as a former boy friend of the waitress, Dorothy Pinson, 22.

Witnesses said the man came into the N. Sixth Street restaurant firing a gun. Miss Pinson was shot three times.

One of the bullets struck Sam Collier, 24, a patron. Collier, shot in the neck, was hospitalized.

Gambling Ban Financial Blow To Hot Springs

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Police start checking today to see that this mountain resort city's biggest industry, illegal gambling, is really dead.

Roulette wheels, dice, card tables and slot machines were still Sunday by order of Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

Whether the closing is permanent is a question. One club operator predicted the casinos would be in full swing next year. A move is under way to legalize gambling through an initiative act in the November general election.

A city official estimated that 25 per cent of the city's 23,377 residents would be affected immediately by the shutdown.

Mayor Dan Wolf said gambling has been a steady part of the city's economy. "You can't just yank it out, like a bad tooth," he said.

Almost 1,000 casino employees will be without jobs. One of the largest casinos had a payroll of $1.5 million a year.

Hot Springs will lose $140,000 in taxes it collects each year on gambling.

Estimates of the amount spent here annually on illegal gambling run to more than $50 million. The amount spent on housing, food and services probably would double that.

Hot Springs also is the site of Oaklawn Park, a legal horse race track. With six days left in the 43-day race meeting, the park's mutuel machines have handled $22.6 million.

Police also will visit bars, restaurants, service stations and other businesses to see that slot machines are removed. Many clubs will remain open, at least temporarily. Sale of mixed drinks, also illegal in Arkansas, apparently was not affected by Faubus' order.

Today's Chuckle

It isn't such a bad old world after all—once you get used to being nervous about everything.

Quiet Settles Over Anchorage Disaster Scene

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—The melancholy quiet of disaster's aftermath has settled over this pitifully scarred city.

Soldiers guard deserted streets. Weary people line up with bottles, buckets, jars, coffee tins, at big water-tank trucks. Others line up at a school building for typhoid shots, others at the city park for soup in steaming vats.

Eyes are dull from shock and fatigue, but if voices are low, spirits seem amazingly high. The crucible of common misfortune has brought out the best in nearly everyone, and selflessness has become contagious, though the struggle simply to keep one's own family warm and fed is exhausting.

At the home of construction worker Victor Paal seven children, five of them neighbors, huddle before the fireplace. For them Good Friday's wicked earthquake has brought only grand adventure.

Like Rolling Drums

They melt snow in a big yellow plastic trash basket on the hearth, eat lunch from olive drab tins, spend the night together in sleeping bags. A neighbor, Frank Reed, has an electric stove, so Mrs. Paal is able to cook one hot meal a day.

As neighbors swapped experiences, it became more clear what it was like during the awful minutes that began at 5:36 p.m. Friday.

"Are you sure it was only minutes?" said Clarence Colbert, an engineer. "I'd swear that damn thing lasted at least a half hour. We were all at home. At first I thought it was just another small quake—we get 'em all the time here."

"Then I heard a sound, like rolling drums, and I knew it was big. I hollered 'Let's get out of here!'"—and we did."

Strangely, few others recall hearing any sound at all other than glass breaking and furniture tumbling. Jean Miller, for instance, was at the doctor's office with two of her seven children and didn't even feel the earth shake at first.

"I started to lean against the wall to talk with Dr. Mills," Mrs. Miller said, "and the wall moved away from me. The doctor pushed me and the children to the floor and fell down on top of us. When it first happened, I thought it was just a truck going by."

Out at the fashionable Turnagain section Esther McCready knew it was no truck.

"I was in the rear corner of the room fixing dinner—a ham, with pineapple rings and brown sugar," Mrs. McCready said. "I was just thinking how good it was going to taste."

"The first shock came. It was a series of quick jumps, like the ground was stuttering. I had felt worse and wasn't alarmed. Then all of a sudden I was being knocked from one wall to another."

"I flicked off the stove burners and got in a corner. It was all I could do to stay on my feet. Cabinet doors flung open, the dishes came tumbling out, everything began bouncing around, and the walls were almost ripping."

"I sat right down on the floor. Then I could hear the house creaking and groaning. I started for the front door, and I remember saying out loud 'If only Bob would hurry up and get here,' then I began screaming."

"Just as I stepped on the front steps, the whole house collapsed behind me. I turned around, and it was almost out of sight."

"We're just grateful," said Bob McCready, 37, "that we're both alive and young enough to start again."

Million Stroll In New York's Easter Parade

NEW YORK (AP)—Nearly a million strollers clogged an 11-block stretch of New York's Fifth Avenue Sunday for the annual Easter parade in which they were the star attractions.

There are no floats for the parade—just people, walking, talking, taking pictures of one another and showing off Easter finery.

Stricken Area Starts Digging Out Of Rubble

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—As Alaskans toiled to dig out from the rubble of Friday's great earthquake, Civil Defense officials listed new casualty figures today of 21 known dead and 83 missing and presumed dead.

Fifty-five were reported to have been injured.

This means if those presumed dead—most were washed to sea by tidal waves following the quake—are indeed dead the toll will be more than 100.

Before this morning's report, an estimated 70 had been listed as dead or presumed so.

Loss $50 Million

Gov. William A. Egan made a new damage estimate Sunday night of $50 million for this far north state, where industry in several south-central coastal towns was virtually obliterated.

Civil Defense officials gave this breakdown on casualties: Anchorage, with a metropolitan population of 100,000 and the state's largest city, 8 dead and 2 presumed dead, 50 injured.

Kodiak, 7 dead, 14 presumed dead, 2 injured.

Valdez, 1 dead, 30 presumed dead, 2 injured.

Seward, 2 dead, 20 presumed dead, 2 injured.

Whittier, 1 dead, 12 presumed dead, 1 injured.

Cordova, 1 dead, 5 presumed dead, injured unknown.

Port Ashton, 1 dead, 5 presumed dead, injured unknown.

A stunned population began to realize the economic ruin carried by the quake. In some communities, industry was as much as 95 per cent wiped out.

May Take A Year

"It might take a year and a half to two years to rebuild," said Mayor Bruce Woodford of Seward, "but we'll make it."

Egan said his estimate of property damage was conservative. Other unofficial estimates were higher.

Egan had increased the figure after visiting Valdez, his home town.

Information from many of the heavy-hit areas was sketchy at best. In Kodiak, where a tidal wave washed out the waterfront, one report said martial law had been proclaimed. Police refused to confirm or deny the report.

Federal Aid Promised

Edward A. McDermott, President Johnson's personal representative on the scene, was flying back to Washington today to recommend special relief legislation.

The President already has declared the 49th state a major disaster area. McDermott said it was obvious the full disaster relief program permitted under present law would not be enough.

At best, he said, it would take two to four months to get Alaskan economy into any workable shape.

Alaska Senators Ernest Gruening and E. L. (Bob) Bartlett, also Washington-bound, indicated they would press for an immediate aid grant in Congress.

Typically, Seward, 60 miles south of Anchorage, had only two known dead, but its business was 95 per cent destroyed and few of its men still had jobs.

The Alaskan Railroad, vital route from Seward to the interior, was a jumble of wrecked cars and twisted rails. A mile-long waterfront area collapsed into the sea.

Sea Wave Disastrous

All along the ring of the Gulf of Alaska where the great quake struck in fury at 5:36 p.m. Friday it was a similar story of low casualties but mighty ruin.

Anchorage, the metropolis of the state with an area population of 100,000, counted 12 dead. Its business district and its best residential sections were tottering heaps of awesome wreckage.

Kodiak Island enumerated 12 dead. Its fishing fleet and cannery plants were wrecked.

One hundred and five miles southeast of Anchorage, reports from the small town of Valdez

Chill Doesn't Balk Egg Hunt

It was a cold day for the South Delta Brownie Easter egg hunt Saturday, but the Brownies managed to keep pretty warm as they raced around the Escanaba Athletic Field, trying to find eggs in snow covered surroundings, while their leaders and chaperones shivered.

No one found the golden egg so top prize was given to Diane Hamlin, Troop 17, who found the most eggs, 10. The troop prizes then went to the second highest in her troop.

Troop prizes were awarded to: 17, Colleen McCarthy; 36, Linda Larson; 31, Ann Hjort; 50, Anne Jurmu; 21, tie, Cathy Partridge and Karen Shomin.

Only four of the 10 silver eggs were found, discovered by Connie Curran, Debbie Castle, Jan Arntzen and Laurie Seymour. The other prizes allocated to the silver eggs were given to the girl finding the next highest number of eggs in each troop.

Mrs. John Peltin and her co-leaders, Mrs. John Savord and Mrs. Herb Fix, with girls of Junior Troop 41, hid the eggs, helped with the Brownie Troops and then collected the eggs missed. Mrs. John Valach was in charge of the prizes.

Warning Given Of Plot To Oust Brazil President

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Brazil's Communist-dominated labor leadership charged today that conservative military men are planning to overthrow left-leaning President Joao Goulart.

Leaders of the General Confederation of Workers vowed to oppose any attempted coup with a general strike and "any methods of fighting which the moment demands."

In a public statement, they urged Brazil's unions and workers to be prepared for a general strike.

The labor leaders issued the warning amid a growing crisis over Goulart's attempts to institute sweeping social reforms and strengthen his power to circumvent a recalcitrant Congress. The trouble came to a head last week with a sit-in strike by 1,400 sailors against alleged political discrimination and poor conditions in the navy.

The sailors surrendered after 40 hours Friday when the General Confederation won a promise from the government that they would not be punished. The rebellion took place in the headquarters of a union affiliated with the labor command.

The navy's officers, including 30 admirals, charged the sailors' revolt had been directed by a group with "clearly Communist characteristics" and called upon the nation to oppose the "communization" of Brazil.

The president of the influential military club, Marshal Augusto Magessi, said Sunday night the army joined with the navy leadership in repudiating Goulart for failing to discipline the strikers.

The labor command said the rightists had prepared their insurrection and planned to install Marshal Eurico Dutra at the helm. Dutra, a former president who revived representative democracy after a 15-year dictatorship, recently broke a long silence with warning to Brazilians to unite "while there is still time," to have democracy.

Marine

LEGISLATION aimed at putting American flagships operating in the Great Lakes on a better competitive footing with foreign ships has been introduced by Sen. Philip A. Hart.

Hart proposed the adding of the Great Lakes ports to those eligible for special consideration under the Merchant Marine Act of 1936.

The Act now provides for a program of operating and construction subsidies for American flagships out of Atlantic, Gulf, and Pacific ports. Purpose of the subsidies is to offset the advantage of lower costs which foreign flagships have.

The Merchant Marine Act—because of its age—inadvertently discriminates against American flagships in the Great Lakes ports. Meanwhile, foreign flag lines are moving in and monopolizing the various trades.

Hart said what he sought was to up-date the Act so that it recognized a fourth coastline which now surpasses the East Coast, the East, the Mid-Atlantic, New England, Quebec and the Maritime Provinces of Canada not only in agriculture and population but also in industrial production and employment.

Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Anderson and their family of 1921 Lake Shore Drive, have returned from southern Michigan where they attended funeral services last week for Mrs. Frank Anderson, the doctor's mother.

She died suddenly on Monday and funeral services were held on Thursday in her home city of Cadillac, with burial in Traverse City.

Dr. and Mrs. Anderson were vacationing at Point Clear, Alabama, when he received news of his mother's death.

Youth Arrested In Stolen Car

A 16-year-old Oshkosh boy who had never been arrested before thought he'd celebrate on a sunny Easter Sunday afternoon by stealing an automobile. He says now that he doesn't know why he did it, but he probably does.

Anyway, he went to the parking lot at the hospital in Oshkosh and tried ignition keys in cars until he found one unlocked and he drove the car away. At 1:20 a. m. this morning his adventure ended when State Police Troopers Grace and Davidson woke him up as he was sleeping in the car parked on the side of U. S. 2-41 a short way west of the Memory Lane Motel.

The youth confessed that he'd stolen the car. He's held here in the detention home waiting action by Wisconsin authorities.

Wood Products Firm Is Sued

MARQUETTE — A suit for $2,298, plus interest and costs against Superior Wood Products, Inc., Grand Marais, was filed here in the U.S. District Court. The action was taken under the Federal Wage-Hour Law on behalf of six employees by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz through Solicitor of Labor Charles Donahue.

The complaint alleges that the corporation failed to pay these employees the applicable minimum wage and the required time and one-half pay rate for hours worked over 40 per workweek during different periods in 1961 and 1962.

Legal action followed an investigation of the firm by the Grand Rapids office of the U.S. Department of Labor's Wage-Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, under the supervision of Ward F. Parks.

Superior Wood Products is engaged in the production, sale and distribution of wooden door cores and paneling for interstate commerce.

Parks noted that since Sept. 3, 1963, the Federal minimum wage for employees engaged in interstate commerce, or in the production of goods for commerce, has been $1.25 an hour. The Fair Labor Standards Act also requires the payment of time and one-half pay rate to these employees for hours worked over 40 per workweek.

Escape In Quake: News Reassures Local Families

Thirty-eight messages from Delta County families and two from Hersonville were clear through the Red Cross office in Escanaba in the program to learn the fate of relatives and friends in the quake-stricken area of Alaska.

Mrs. Betty Hamilton, secretary of the Delta County Chapter of the American Red Cross, said that so far as it has yet been determined none of the persons for whom anxiety was expressed have been hurt.

"So far as we know at this time there are no casualties or injuries from this area," she said.

The Red Cross has asked her to reassure the families in this area with the statement that reports of casualties and injuries are being given preference. No news is, therefore, good news. Unless something unforeseen occurs there is no cause for alarm in not hearing immediately from relatives in Alaska.

There was reassurance in direct communication by relatives with loved ones in Alaska as phone and wire service was restored.

Capt. Mary Jean Rademacher telephoned her parents at 1 a.m. today of her safety. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rademacher of 709 3rd Ave. S.

An officer in the U. S. Air Force Medical Corps, she had been assigned to Elmendorf AFB near Anchorage from Forbes, and had arrived in Alaska by jet plane only a few hours before the earthquake.

Mrs. John Peyton, the former Ellen Michaud and sister of Mrs. Robert Schmit of Ford River, and her husband and daughter escaped death or injury in the quake that shattered the city of Anchorage where they had lived for the past 12 years. Mr. Peyton is an officer of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Their daughter, Mary Jo, is a student at a high school near the Peyton home. The school building was destroyed.

A son of the Peytons, John Jr., attends the University of Seattle. Word of the safety of the Peytons came to Mrs. Schmit from another sister, Mrs. Andrew B. Nelson of Seattle, who is the former Eva Michaud of Escanaba.

Mrs. John Simpson, the former Mialma Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Soren Johnson, Gladstone, assured her parents of her safety in a telephone call at 5 a.m. today. She was permitted to talk only 15 seconds.

Leonard Doremire Jr., his wife and seven children, are safe according to a message pictured up by a ham operator, Mrs. Richard Makie of Kipling from a relay to Mason, Mich., Sunday at 9:45 a.m. Doremire, stationed at an air base near Anchorage is a son of the senior Leonard Doremires of Kipling.

TED THOMPSON, left, and Robert Knutilla of the Escanaba office of the U.S. Geological Survey check a recorder on the Schemmel Well at Pine Ridge which registered a violent reaction in water level change from seismic waves created by Friday night's earthquake centering in Anchorage, Alaska. The graph will be examined to determine the amount of water level fluctuation, but it was more than a foot. (Daily Press Photo)

Death Takes Mrs. Parker, 81

Mrs. Edith Parker, 81, of 226 N. 15th St., died Sunday at 6 p.m. at her home.

She was born in Bay City, Aug. 30, 1882, and was a resident of Manistiquette 30 years. The past six years she lived with her granddaughter, Mrs. Lawrence Whitman of Escanaba.

Surviving are five grandchildren.

Friends may call after 4 p.m. Tuesday at the Allo Funeral Home. Services will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Allo chapel, with the Rev. Donald E. Wolf of Calvary Baptist Church conducting the rites.

Quake Changes Level In Wells Over Two Feet

The Alaskan earthquake of last Friday night caused a fluctuation of the water level in the Schemmel Well at Pine Ridge of 2.2 feet. This was determined today with reading of the graph on the recorder maintained on the well by the U.S. Geological Survey.

The seismic wave reaction was recorded about midnight Friday. The earthquake occurred about 5:30 Alaska time and 10:30 Escanaba time.

Geologists of the Geological Survey said that they had received local reports of cloudy water in local wells since the Alaskan earthquake. They said a surge in the wells causes the rolling of silt in the well and equifer and that it should clear up in a few days "unless there is another quake."

The fluctuation of more than 2 feet in the water of the more than 600 feet deep Schemmel Well was reported by Robert Knutilla and Ted Thompson of the U.S. Geological Survey office in Escanaba.

The recording of earth crust shocks like those from more than 4,000 miles away in the Alaskan quakes is not the prime purpose of the Geological Survey's keeping of records on the Schemmel Well and others in this area. Such recordings as seismic wave results and atmospheric pressure changes are extra dividends. The prime purpose of the recorders is for hydrological (water) studies of the aquifer. An aquifer is a water-bearing bed of earth, gravel or porous stone.

Seismic waves traveling through the earth's crust from Chile were recorded in water wells in the United States from Florida to Wisconsin in 1960 after the Chilean quake, and as far away as Hawaii.

The fluctuations in the water wells are believed caused by the surface (Rayleigh) waves of earthquakes. Study of earthquake effects on water levels have great potential scientific value. Records of the response of wells to earthquakes help determine the elastic properties of artesian aquifers and knowledge of these properties is essential in the study and development of ground water supplies.

Even ocean tides affect aquifers and register on deep well recorders, compressing the aquifer and squeezing the water level up in wells like the Schemmel Well on the property of Marshall and Sherman Blake of Escanaba at Pine Ridge. It has been called the Schemmel well because of an iron ore exploration test hole in the World War I period which created the well.

Gladstone's Project

Gladstone is at grips with a problem of industrial development that shows a community really trying to do something about a situation of which we've had much conversation and little action in recent years in the Upper Peninsula.

The situation is a reminder that when industrial development projects finally face reality there's no substitute for the local community. It's the organization that's going to get the local industry—or keep one, as in this case—and while it may have the good wishes of the rest of the Upper Peninsula and the state and even the nation, what really counts is what it does—itsself.

In the case of the Gladstone Industrial Development Corp. project to keep the Marble Arms plant operating in Gladstone, the project needn't be limited to Gladstone. Escanaba and Rapid River and the rest of our Delta County communities should be just as interested in its success as is Gladstone. The benefits are general and so the interest should be general. But the issue rests with the local community, using the term in this larger sense.

Gladstone's need to keep the Marble Arms plant going arises because it became part of an industrial complex. When International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. bought Bell & Gossett Co. it inherited Marble Arms in its Marble Division. It isn't interested in sporting goods manufacture and offered Marble Arms for sale.

Two Hopkins, Minn. firms which manufacture sporting goods will buy Marble Arms, move their Hopkins manufacturing operations to Gladstone and merge the three operations. The firms are Birchwood Chemical Co. and Casey Chemical Co. They make gun blueings, stock finishings, etc.

This arrangement stacks up well. It brings two going businesses to Gladstone and merges them with one of the community's oldest industries, which has become incompatible in the industrial complex which has acquired it. The Small Business Administration of the Federal Government likes the plan of merger so well that it will loan $128,000 to finance the acquisition of the plant from ITT-Bell & Gossett. The other $32,000 will be supplied $8,000 by the chemical companies (which are putting substantial sums into working capital) and $24,000 by Gladstone area investors.

SBA insists on the local participation and certainly the hope of success of the venture rides upon local support. A community that has invested in an enterprise has a proprietary interest in it that's helpful. This is the way Marble Arms started and flourished. After a period of experimentation with outside ownership it has a chance for return to the home town basis that made it world-famed.

The devoted men of Gladstone who are seeking the investment of $24,000 in the Gladstone Industrial Development Corp. for this Marble Arms project (the corporation would buy the plant and lease-sell it to the chemical companies) find that some persons regard an investment in Marble Arms as a gift. The normal hazards of industry affect this project, of course, but all the people involved believe that it has a good chance of success or they wouldn't be working so hard to put it over, investing their money in it, getting a government loan, bringing capital and knowhow and leadership to Gladstone.

The Upper Peninsula has been looking for opportunities for industrial growth—for jobs and income. Here's an opportunity.

ADC-U At Last

Michigan has at last qualified for participation in the federal program for Aid to Dependent Children of the Unemployed (ADC-U).

The Republicans who voted for the bill include some who have strong misgivings about the whole business. The Democrats who voted with them include some unhappy that eligibility rules are not more liberal. The vote reflects resolve to drop political wrangling in favor of claiming the $55,000 a day in federal funds the state has been passing up.

It took only a year to get this issue settled and there are doubts in some quarters about the wisdom of the action, but expediency rules much policy making today and it is judged expedient for the states to get the Federal Government to pay for welfare services when we can.

The Doctor Says:

Baby's Arrival Jolts Junior

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

When a second baby appears on the scene, the first child will be expected to show a certain amount of jealousy. Because this is an infantile behavior that indicates a feeling of insecurity and dependence, steps should be taken to head it off.

The parents of 3-year-old Freddy told him that when his mother came back from the hospital she would bring him a little brother or sister to play with. They thought they had taken a big step toward solving the problem. But they were not being realistic.

Freddy took one look at the new arrival and disappointingly found her small and helpless, unable to communicate except by crying, and much too demanding of everyone's attention.

A far better approach would have been to tell Freddy that his mother was bringing home a live doll that would need lots of attention but that he could have a doll of his own to give the same care his mother would give the baby.

This would in no way turn Freddy into a sissy because the device would be used only as a temporary bridge to a better understanding of why his mother must spend so much time with the baby.

The two most important things in handling a child's emotional problems at a time like this are sufficient imagination to place yourself in his shoes and a supreme effort to let him know that you love him as much as always. This is a project in which both parents must join.

A child must be made to understand that every member of the family is an individual with his own special differences, that these differences are to be respected and that everyone has his contribution to make to the family unity.

It is very helpful to praise the child for new accomplishments that show that he is growing up. If in spite of all this, he may have moments when he wants to revert to babyhood, drink his milk from a bottle or be carried upstairs, it is well to humor him. This will give him a chance to see for himself that these things are not as much fun as he imagined they would be and make him proud that he has learned to do some things for himself.

So They Say

I would not take the vice presidential nomination under any circumstances. I'd rather be a senator—GOP Sen. Barry Goldwater.

May I thank the jury for a verdict that is a victory for bigotry. — Melvin Belli, Jack Ruby's defense attorney, after jury found Ruby guilty of killing Lee Harvey Oswald.

Washington Comment

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — If the Congress and President Johnson want to save money, there's a door open to them.

Some key management officials in the U. S. government privately estimate there's between $500 million and $1 billion dollars a year of inefficiency and overlap in the administration of the federal government in Washington.

They assert:

- There is no uniform system of accounting throughout the major departments and agencies.

- Keeping separate personnel and pay records is wasteful duplication. These could be combined on modern computers. Such a system, adopted throughout the government, could save hundreds of millions of dollars a year.

- A system of measuring management productivity could be worked out and placed on computers. It could be used to "flag" divisions doing outstanding jobs and those doing less well. Techniques of the successful managers could be passed on to the less successful.

- In some cases, of course, it would mean firing or transferring less successful men. In other cases, investigation would prove the machines wrong.

- The Billy Sol Estes scandal

Memory Lane

By J. R. LOWELL

Ten Years Ago

Walter Tang has been elected president of the Gladstone Chamber of Commerce.

The Carpenters and Joiners Local 382 of Manistique have volunteered to contribute a day's work for the construction of a new home for the Eldred Demars family at Cooks. The old home was recently destroyed by fire.

This was a light year for the Eskymo's basketball team. Jim Bolm, however, was awarded a place on the second team of Class B teams. John Quinn won a first team berth in the Class E team.

Twenty Years Ago

The Rapid River sawmill will start operations the first of next week and provide employment for about 50 men.

Alexander Giroux, 76, died today at his home at 302 N. 14th St. Mr. Giroux was employed as a bookkeeper for the Charles Hibberd Lumber Co., but was widely known as a student on many subjects, particularly astronomy.

The entire eastern Upper Peninsula area is covered with a thick blanket of snow, and there is a general blockade of travel on highways and railroads. In Escanaba the fall was eight inches, the heaviest thus far this season.

Thirty Years Ago

Miss Lucille Moll, a student at St. Catherine's College, St. Paul, is home for the holidays with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Moll.

Hopes of an early opening of the Little Bay de Noc harbor have been dashed by extremely cold and rugged weather. The arrival of Coast Guard cutters has been delayed until weather settles.

Herbert J. Hughtitt, 71, a resident of Escanaba since 1888 and until recently associated with the A. J. Hughtitt & Sons Lumber Co. and of the Escanaba Hardware, died today in Florida.

dal shook the Department of Agriculture and led Secretary Orville Freeman to set up an independent inspector-general system responsible only to him. There's need, these management men say, of such a powerful, independent civilian system in the State and Defense departments and other major agencies.

- When new, important job openings crop up, there's no adequate way to find the best-suited men. A government-wide computer system could cull out the dozen, two dozen or so men best qualified wherever they worked. Then the administrators could make their selection.

As things are now, these management men say, if the State Department has need of a highly qualified man who may be working in Interior, say, it's likely he won't be discovered.

Each department obtains its own computers, adopts its own systems. Systems used in one agency don't mesh with those in another.

- As it is, only a handful of the 1,300 computers brought by the government have actually resulted in a decrease in manpower. The management men say there is need for a central bureau to institute efficiencies government-wide.

This central bureau would take better methods used by one department, get them adopted by others and push adoption of uniform systems through the government where such uniformity could lead to cheaper machine operation.

Where the failure lies is not clear. Some management men put their finger on the Budget Bureau.

Tab On State Spending Voted

LANSING (AP) — A House-passed measure requiring a governor to keep close tabs on state spending in hopes of preventing "payless paydays" such as that of 1959 is on its way to the Senate.

The bill, sponsored by Rep. Wilfred Bassett, R-Jackson, is aimed at implementing a provision of the constitution. It makes a governor's failure to keep spending within income in a given year "grounds for removal from office."

The constitution requires the governor to cut state spending "whenever it appears actual revenues will fall below estimates on which appropriations were based."

The bill would require the governor to call a meeting of the House and Senate budget committees in such a situation, and to recommend budget cuts, except for appropriations from constitutionally earmarked funds.

Cream Pie Pelter Clapped In Jail

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Alan C. Finley explained that when he saw those big, cream-topped pies he just couldn't resist.

What Finley did, police said, was fling two of the pies in the face of delivery man Leland E. Baum as Baum unloaded the pies from his truck Thursday.

Finley, promptly clapped in jail on a battery charge, said Baum "has no sense of humor."

Ask The Dentist

TEETH AT AGE 70?

By Dr. Stephen Sheffrey
And The Michigan State Dental Association

At age 70, only five persons in 100 have enough natural teeth left for adequate chewing. Pretty discouraging odds for those of us who think our teeth are invincible.

How did those five per cent manage to keep their teeth? Some faithfully followed good dental health rules. But most were born lucky, with phenomenal resistance to both the tooth decay and gum disease.

How did the toothless 95 per cent lose them? Cavities? Gum troubles? Or did their teeth just wear out?

Not many people wear out their natural teeth. The primitive Eskimo did, but he used his teeth as pliers, vise, bone shaper, forge and hide conditioner. He ate with them, too—a sort of incidental use.

Advanced decay and gum disease account for most teeth loss. A Washington dentist who kept track reported that the two maladies rank about equal in causing teeth loss in his patients. Other observers place more blame on gum disease, particularly after 40.

Can those long odds be improved, or are you destined to lose your teeth anyway?

Most dentists would agree that the odds could be cut in half easily if we could only get a message through to the right people.

One person in 20 has both disease-resistant gums and decay-resistant teeth. And at least one person in 20 has the resistant gums but has a little tooth decay—the "silent" type that doesn't drive him to a dentist until he's 40 to 50. By that time many key teeth have been ruined because of decay.

Just because the notion prevails that everyone is due for false teeth eventually, these persons let their teeth go until it's too late.

So if you suspect that you're one of those stone-jawed individuals who has only a cavity or two, don't wait until it's plate time. There might be no plate time for you. Get those few cavities filled. You can beat the odds—and at the same time get more for your dental dollar.

Low Lakes Are 1964 Prospect

Precipitation over the Great Lakes basin averaged only 26.01 inches in 1963, dropping below the long range average for the third straight year and nearing the record low of 25.69 inches set in 1930.

Last year's figure for the drainage basin area in the United States and Canada was below the 1900-63 average by 5.3 inches or 17 per cent and was the second lowest annual amount since 1900, according to the U. S. Lake Survey.

The subnormal precipitation occurred in all lake basins, ranging from 317 inches of 12 per cent below average on Lake Huron to more than 9 inches or 27 per cent below normal on Lake Erie's basin. Lake Superior had the fewest subnormal months in 1963—eight—while 11 months were short in the Lake Michigan area, which includes Menominee, Delta, Schoolcraft and Mackinac counties in the Upper Peninsula.

The water levels of the Great Lakes at mid-1964 are expected to be below their 1963 elevations in all areas except the Lake Superior basin.

The drop from last year's levels probably will be about 4 to 5 inches in Lake Michigan, Huron and Erie.

Ann Landers Wigs For Tots? Mother Kooky

Dear Ann Landers: Several months ago you delivered a well-deserved knock to the idea of "little diamond rings for your steady girl." Apparently teenagers have so much money these days they are able to spend $15.98 on "a little ring to show her you care."

Well, I almost threw up at that one, but attached to this letter, Ann, is something that really made me sick. As you can see it's an advertisement which appeared in our newspaper — "Fashion wigs for little girls from 3 to 9 years of age."

The ad pictures a dimpled, smiling five-year-old wearing an intricate braided hair-do, which, of course is a wig. Under the picture, it says:

"Give your little princess a thrill she'll never forget. These fashion wigs will change her personality in an instant. As a blonde she is breathtaking; as a brunette, delicious; as a red-head, stunning. She will enjoy 1963 elevations in all areas except the Lake Superior basin. The wig stays on without pins, will fit any little girl from 3 to 9 years of age. It is made of vinyl and looks like real hair."

The wig stays on without pins, will fit any little girl from 3 to 9 years of age. It is made of vinyl and looks like real hair.

The price? only $3.98 plus post-office.

Now, Ann Landers, what do you think of THAT? — STOP THE WORLD, I WANNA GET OFF

Dear S. T. W.: I think it's nauseating. The notion that a viny mop on a youngster's head will "change her personality in an instant" and "make her the center of attraction" is revolting beyond description.

Any mother who would do this to her child is so kooked up that I feel sorry for her children.

Dear Ann Landers: I gather from reading your column that you don't think much of people who drop in without an invitation.

MY friends are welcome to come and see me anytime. I was raised in Vermont by just plain folks. Who raised you? — GRASSY ARE MY ROOTS

Dear Grassy: I was raised by just plain folks in Iowa. And I'll wager plain folks in Iowa are just about as plain as you can get.

If you welcome uninvited guests, bully for you, Doll. I don't want 'em. And neither do the vast majority of the folks (both plain and fancy) who write to me.

People who are even remotely sensitive will give you a fighting chance and telephone first. They won't fall in when you have other guests, a basket full of laundry waiting to be ironed, a kid down with the flu — or a column to write.

Dear Ann Landers: Our daughter who will soon be 19 is in her second year at a local college. She plans to be a teacher. Yesterday she told us the history club of her college is planning a weekend excursion out of town. There are boys in the club.

She used to be an obedient daughter but since she started college she has become headstrong and difficult I've just about decided to tell her, "You're not going and I don't want to hear any more about it."

I fail to see how a weekend of this kind can help her be a better teacher. Her college education is costing us a lot of money and I don't want her to use it as an excuse to tear around with loose males.

How can I make her see this is not meanness on my part, but mother love? Please help me. I feel utterly lost. — NOT COPING

Dear Not: There is a difference between mother love and another love. A 19-year-old college girl HAS a chaperone — her conscience.

This girl's standards are well established and if you have done your job you need not worry about her. If you have NOT done your job, worrying now will not help. I say let her go — with your blessings.

NOT AN ISSUE

"Much has been said about natural gas. As a member of the Council and secretary of the Upper Peninsula Natural Gas Committee, I have been asked by many people to clarify this situation. In the interest of the public, I believe a frank statement is in order."

"There is no issue as to whether Escanaba should or should not have natural gas. This decision was made several years ago by your Council when they decided to entertain propositions from interested gas utilities, went so far as to make commitments to competing utilities and offered local facts and figures as evidence in Federal and Michigan Public Service Commission hearings that resulted.

"As for myself, I am completely in favor of bringing natural gas to the U. P. and Escanaba. I have publicly expressed by conviction in this matter over the past five years on the Council. However, I do not see this matter resolved overnight as some individuals would have the public believe. We have waited, not by our own choosing, and fought too long for gas, to suddenly take quick action that would jeopardize the bargaining position in which Escanaba finally finds itself."

"Your Council must make several decisions in the near future such as:

"1. Whether or not we can acquire gas at a rate that will be economically practical to the consumer and to the industry.

"2. Whether the City should distribute the gas or sell the system and distribution rights to a utility.

"3. Whether a firm or interruptible method of receiving gas is most advantageous for Escanaba.

"4. What are the economic gains versus the losses to our community?

"5. With which company will the City finally decide to do business?"

"These are not questions that can be decided quickly or on the basis of few facts. It is important that concerted thought and consideration be given to this decision. It should be pointed out also, from my past experience in attending natural al gas hearings and meetings in Detroit and cities of the Upper Peninsula, that this decision will not and should not be a hasty one. We have much to gain—or lose, as a community, dependent on the decisions made after all the facts are available."

ALEWIFE OR SHAD

Where is our Conservation Department? I haven't seen them at my resort since last spring. I understand they are building campgrounds. The Department has a lot of publicity in the Press on their farm ponds, enlarging the department and state parks at the expense of the fishermen. We can water ski at least on the inland lakes and Great Lakes and we have a beautiful four lane highway leading to Canada. So go to Canada and catch your fish.

The Whitefish River area has always been known as the spawning grounds for walleyes, but it doesn't do much good anymore. The shad move in to the upper part of the bay by the tons, starting in June and stay from 9 to 10 weeks. They are eating everything in sight. I talked with Cliff Long two years ago and he said he didn't know whether they were feeding on young walleyes or not. We know they are. The commercial fishermen caught the smelt as they came in to spawn and that was it for them.

We have a very serious situation facing us. I suggest in June to set nets across the narrows at Gladstone and have the big commercial fishermen's trawlers come in and seine them and have conveyor belts to load them onto semi-trucks and if there is no market for them, bury them.

If anyone else has a better suggestion, I would like to hear it. Our fishing is never coming back if we don't get shad from our spawning grounds. Things are getting so bad that the shiner minnows are becoming scarce. When are we going to get some action, or are we going to wait until we have no fishing?

Student Flood Is College Problem

"The real problem facing higher education in Michigan is students," said Michigan State University's Secretary Jack Breslin, to MSU county and district staff members in Marquette recently. To emphasize the state's dilemma in providing educational opportunities for all of the so-called "war babies" Breslin pointed out that it would take five new colleges and universities the size of Flint Junior, Albion, Port Huron Junior, Western Michigan and the University of Michigan, just to provide classrooms and teachers for the additional boys and girls wanting to go to college in 1970.

Jack Breslin

These are conservative predictions of the needs for meeting the minimum demands for higher education, said Breslin, who added that 1970 would see the number in the state seeking college education shoot up to 330,000—double the total enrollment of 1960.

"Just to handle the extra 43,000 college and university students—the number anticipated for next year over the 1962 enrollment, we will need 24 per cent more teachers," Breslin said. "This," he said, "along with the pinch on equipment, is the biggest challenge to educational institutions."

Breslin said the governor's blue ribbon committee on higher education and the state universities' voluntary coordinating council, are cooperating to point out the dilemma to Michigan citizens.

Breslin predicted that ceilings would not be placed on enrollment at MSU or U-M and said that if they were, they would likely be lifted. "The big universities are in a position to expand fastest to meet the student population explosion," he said, predicting that MSU's enrollment would reach 31,444 by next year and 42,200 by 1970.

Confident that the state citizens and legislators would create new institutions and expand existing ones to meet the needs, Breslin said all youth must have educational opportunities for personal fulfillment, to improve their economic capacity, to become economic assets to their state, and to develop into more effective citizens.

"Since 1945, communities in our state have bonded themselves for a total of $1,770,000,000 to meet elementary and secondary school needs," Breslin said, predicting that "the leadership and the legislature will now meet the challenge in providing opportunities for higher education."

Carl Sandburg's "Abraham Lincoln" often is considered the greatest biography of modern times.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

Grain Carriers First At Locks

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—At least seven ships—all Canadian—will be waiting in line when the Soo locks open April 1, the Coast Guard has been told.

The Coast Guard received word that Papachristidis Co.'s Hamiltonian and New Brunswick and Canada Steamship Co.'s Nipigon Bay, Thunder Bay, Black Bay, aie St. Paul, and T. R. McLagan will be in the lower St. Marys River the night of March 31.

The seven were among the last grain carriers to come down through the locks before they were closed for the season Dec. 22. They will be bound this year to pick up more grain at Lake Superior ports.

Public Warned Of Mail Fraud

Noting that mail frauds filch millions from the public annually and are increasing, Escanaba Postmaster James E. Pryal urged today that local residents take care in responding to solicitations from unknown companies or to "offer too good to be true."

Pryal said the Postal Service is pressing a strong drive against quackery by mail, land fraud promotions, gyp work-at-home schemes and the like.

He noted that one of the stiffest prison terms ever administered to a medical "con man" was given to Roy Wright WeWelles, of Pass Christian, Miss., who made an estimated $1.5 million peddling a worthless "oxygen therapy" device known as Detoxaconlon. DeWelles was arrested after sending out 10,000 postal cards promoting the quack scheme.

In other recent mail fraud cases there were convictions on the sale of worthless desert land near Elko, Nev.; a faith healer scheme; and "work-at-home" schemes in which people who sent money received nothing.

"It should be emphasized," Postmaster Pryal added, "that most businesses doing business by mail are reputable firms, including many that may not be familiar to the prospective purchaser."

If there is any doubt it is best to get information from reliable sources, such as the Better Business Bureau. In cases where there is a genuine basis for suspicion of fraud, prompt information should be supplied to the postmaster, who will see that appropriate action is taken.

Dock Firm Plans Major Expansion At River Rouge

DETROIT (AP)—A $4 million expansion program, expected to more than double the handling capacity of the Nicholson Terminal and Dock Co., was announced Saturday by the firm's executive vice president, Joseph R. Deane.

Deane said the final phase of the expansion program will start in 1967 and be completed by 1969. The program includes provision of up to eight general cargo ship berths at the firm's suburban River Rouge location by 1969, he said.

Installation of two giant gantry cranes and construction of another warehouse also was planned.

Why are some drugs like
"ecstasy sauce?"

If you read "Li'l Abner" you may recall how the Gourmet's Club plotted to make "Ecstasy Sauce" from the Yokums' pet pig, Salomey. Recipe: Boil down one hammy alabamius (Salomey) until just one single, solitary delicious drop remains—and that is "Ecstasy Sauce." In terms of food, this is humorously ridiculous, but it's actually routine in the making of drugs. Often hundreds of pounds of raw materials must be processed and reprocessed to obtain one tiny pinch of the active medication. Which helps explain why modern drugs are so potent, and why we pharmacists dispense them only when your physician writes a prescription.

Oysters Make Pearls, Maybe

By AP NEWSFEATURES
Temperamental oysters make pearls, and pearls make money for man. So man cultivates oysters.

But oysters refuse to be exploited, and unless man keeps their living conditions near-perfect, they retaliate, either by producing inferior stones or by dying.

Japanese pearl farmers, whose oysters produce most of the world's cultured pearls, have become experts at oyster-pampering.

But sometimes the pampering is not enough. Masayasu Kato, United States representative for Japan's cultured pearl industry, reports that some sizes of cultured pearls will be in short supply this year after four years of unfavorable weather which lowered production.

Everything possible is done to insure peace and quiet for the oyster while he works. The oyster creates a pearl by depositing nacre around a piece of polished shell placed in his flesh by the farmer.

While the pearl grows — a process that takes years — the oyster is kept happy, healthy, clean and in quiet water of the proper temperature and salinity.

Vitamins, complex pipe systems which keep underwater beds clean and supply food, and hospitals where the implant operation is performed are standard equipment on modern oyster farms.

Despite the care oysters receive, only about five per cent of the pearls harvested in a typical year are good enough to be called gems. And in bad years, the crop falls off sharply as the oysters refuse to produce.

Thin slivers of orange rind that have been par-boiled and a little orange juice are good additions to gravy served with roast duck.

Two Local Members in Bethel College Choir

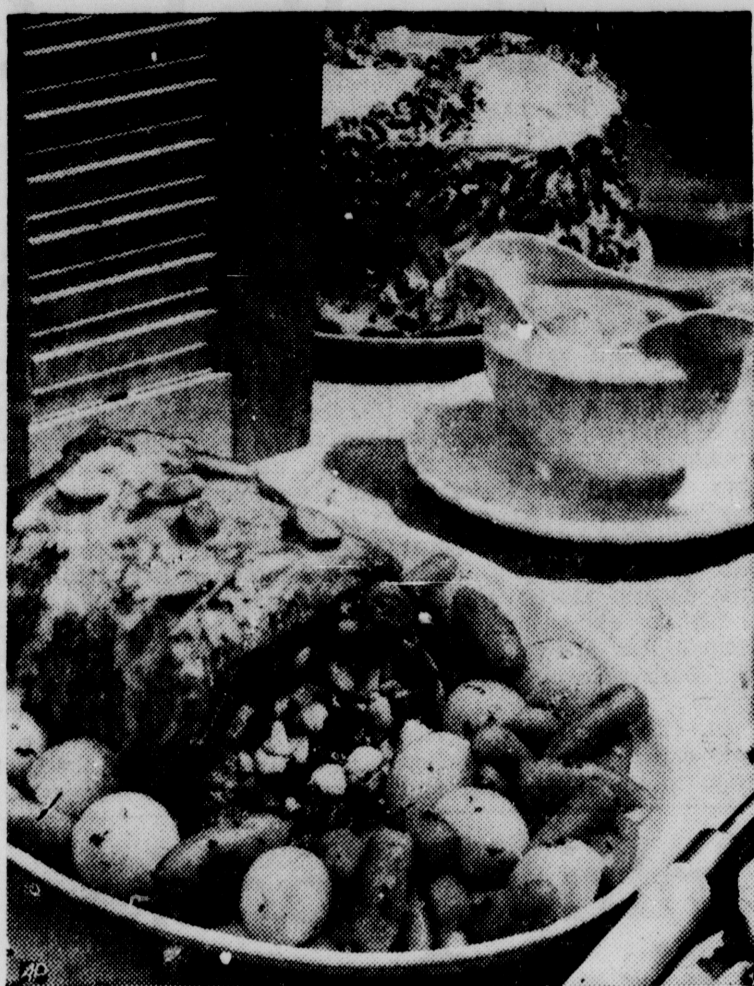

When the Bethel College Choir sings in Escanaba Wednesday evening, April 1, at 8 p.m., among the 64 choir members will be two from this area. Bill Swenson, son of Mrs. Gladys Swenson of 1916 1st Ave. S., is a sophomore at Bethel College and was a 1962 graduate of the Escanaba Area High School. Also in the choir is Carol Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Miller of 501 Minnesota in Gladstone. Carol graduated from Gladstone High School last spring and is enrolled as a freshman at the college.

The concert is being held at the new Escanaba Area High School auditorium and promises to be a real treat to music lovers of the area. The choir will sing selections from Schutz, Haydn, Palestrina, Berger, Christiansen, Franck, Brahms and Bach as well as spirituals and hymn arrangements. Members will bring with them their most recent recording entitled, "Let All Nations Praise" which is dedicated to the late President Kennedy for whom the choir sang last spring on their Eastern States tour.

The choir is directed by Robert Berglund who has had the opportunity for extensive summer study under Julius Herford and Robert Shaw and will complete next year his doctoral work at the University of Minnesota. Over the years the College Choir has achieved a reputation of articulate communication of the spirit and the message of the Savior of whom they sing, with a high level of musical sensitivity.

BREAST OF VEAL—Adding sausage, prunes and apricots to the stuffing will give a delicious flavor.

Breast of Veal

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

A stuffed breast of veal makes a delicious and interesting main course—inexpensive, too. Cooks may find this dish worthwhile trying.

The breast of veal is sometimes found already boned at a market; if not, a meatman can prepare it.

When we tried this dish, our tasters particularly liked the sauce concocted from canned chicken gravy and mushrooms. STUFFED BREAST OF VEAL
1/2 pound bulk sausage
1/2 pound bulk sausage
1/4 cup chopped celery
2 cups packaged seasoned bread croutons
1/2 cup chopped prunes
1/4 cup chopped dried apricots
A 3-pound boned breast of veal
1/2 teaspoon salt
Pepper to taste
1 can (10 3/4 ounces) chicken gravy
1 can (4 ounces) sliced mushrooms, drained
1/8 teaspoon thyme

In a large skillet cook the sausage, crumbling with a fork, with the onion and celery until the vegetables are wilted. Mix in the croutons, prunes and apricots; arrange over half of veal; fold over. Sew edges together or fasten with skewers. Sprinkle veal with salt and pepper. Place meat in a shallow baking pan. Roast in a slow (325 degrees) oven for about 1 1/2 hours; remove fat from pan. Into drippings stir the chicken gravy, drained mushrooms and thyme. Roast for about 1 hour longer or until veal is very tender, basting several times with the sauce in the pan. Makes 6 servings.

Cracking Contest Takes 6,000 Eggs

ELIZABETHTON, Tenn. (AP)—It took over six hours and more than 6,000 eggs, but Freeman Taylor emerged the winner Sunday in the annual Easter egg fight held in the Peters Hollow community near here.

The event, thought to be over 100 years old, is a contest to see whose brightly colored hard-boiled eggshells are the hardest.

One contestant approaches another, holds out his egg and says, "See if you can crack this one," and the battle is on—a contestant must crack the other's egg with his own.

Taylor came armed with 32 dozen eggs.

Giraffe Is Born In London Zoo

LONDON (AP)—A 5-foot 10 inch giraffe was born in London Zoo Thursday. Mother and calf are doing well.

For weeks keepers had maintained daily watch on the expectant mother over closed circuit television. But the baby was born in the early hours of this morning when no one was looking.

Keepers have not yet ascertained the baby giraffe's sex. A zoo official says giraffes usually come about 5 feet 8 to 6 feet at birth. Mother made stands at 15 feet.

Building Of Poe Lock Will Be Resumed July 1

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—The Army Corps of Engineers has set July 1 as the target date for resumption of work on the $40.3 million Poe Lock, which is to be large enough to handle 1,000-foot ships.

The corps notified prospective bidders that advance specification on construction work would be ready April 28 and bids would be due 45 days later.

Work on the excavation began in 1960 but halted in 1962 when the engineers decided to make the lock bigger than originally planned. Completion now is scheduled for July, 1967.

MacArthur Has More Surgery

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur—still weathering the impact of three major operations in 24 days—continued today to receive the bedside aid of an arsenal of life-supporting equipment.

Hospital spokesmen said his temperature, blood pressure and pulse were all within normal for his post-operative condition.

The 84-year-old general was under sedation during the night, and was receiving intravenous fluids, blood transfusions and oxygen as he required it.

But, the doctors said, the five-star general was still in critical condition, as he has been for several days.

Late Sunday night, hospital spokesmen said that Mrs. MacArthur had visited her husband several times through the day. Earlier, they indicated the general was wavering between consciousness and sedation.

The latest emergency came early Easter morning and doctors had to operate for a third time—the second emergency surgery in seven days.

They removed about eight feet of small intestine after a portion of it had become trapped in an old hernia. It had literally strangled for lack of blood.

Doctors said they had found a small perforation in the removed section—but that there had been no gangrene.

Religion Center At College Called Law Violation

DETROIT (AP)—A faculty member charged in a lawsuit Thursday that Henry Ford Community College of Dearborn violates the Constitution in supporting a religious center on the campus.

Donald A. Calkins, a political science teacher, brought suit in Wayne County Circuit Court, naming the Dearborn Board of Education as defendant.

Calkins, a plaintiff in the Michigan congressional districting suit now before federal court, said the Board of Education violated both the U.S. and Michigan constitutions in allocating $8,600 to the religious center. He said he objected as a citizen and taxpayer to the use of public funds for religious purposes.

The religious center, non-denominational was organized three years ago by a Dearborn citizens group as a place for students to bring their spiritual problems. A corporation headed by Harry Jones, an industrialist, administers the center. It works with a clergymen's group.

Circuit Judge Edward S. Piggins set April 3 for a hearing.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

State Swimmer Breaks Record

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Michigan's William Farley cracked the NCAA 1,650-yard freestyle swimming record by nearly half a minute Saturday night, but still finished second in the NCAA national championships.

Farley led most of the way, but finished five yards behind Southern California's Roy Saari, who was clocked in 16:49.5 for the distance—just 110 yards short of a mile.

Farley's time was 16:56.1, still much faster than the 17:24.0 record set last year by Southern Cal's Jon Konrads. Two other swimmers beat the 17:24.0 time.

Ed Boothman, in the three-meter dive, also scored a second as Michigan placed fourth overall. The Wolverines had 30 points, while winner Southern Cal scored 96 and runnerup Indiana had 91.

Michigan's Edward Bartsch finished fifth in the 100-yard backstroke in :54.2. Southern Cal's Robert Bennett won it in a record :53.1.

Swimmers Crack Batch Of Marks

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—College swimmers have some new records to thrash at—20 of them.

The records—three American and 17 NCAA marks—tumbled during the three-day NCAA swimming championships that ended Saturday night in the Yale University pool.

The team title went to Southern California with 96 points. Favored Indiana finished five points behind.

Southern California's 19-year-old Roy Saari accounted for three of the records—the 1,650 yard freestyle, the 500-yard freestyle and the 200-yard individual medley.

Saari's time of 16:49.5 in the 1,650 chopped more than a half minute from Australian Jon Konrad's NCAA mark of 17:24 set last year.

Two of the American records fell Saturday, the other on Friday.

Walt Richardson of Minnesota won the 100-yard butterfly in 50.2 seconds to better his own 50.6 performance last year.

Bob Bennett and Rich McGeagh of Southern California finished in twin times of 53.1 in the 100-yard backstroke for another American mark.

The judges said Bennett was the winner, but both swimmers received the credit of slicing two-tenths of a second from the old mark held by Charley Bitlicko, a Navy ensign.

Also on the final night, Yale's Steve Clark and Southern California's Bill Craig won two events each. Clark took the 100-yard and 200-yard freestyles. His time of 46.3 in the 100 was better than former Minnesota star Steve Jackman's old mark of 46.5.

Craig won the 100-yard and 200-yard breaststrokes. His performance in the 100 in 59.9 bettered the 1:00.4 set by Chet Jastremski of Indiana.

UM Wrestlers Finish Sixth

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP)—Michigan wrestlers placed high in three of the ten weight classes as the Wolverines finished sixth overall in the NCAA National Collegiate Wrestling Tournament Saturday.

Gary Wilcox took second at 137 pounds when he lost a 13-5 decision to Oklahoma's Mike Sager in the finals.

In the consolation finals, Robert Spaly took third at 191 pounds with a 5-1 decision over Sven Holm of Oakland and Wayne Miller narrowly missed a third at 157 pounds. He lost a 2-1 referee's decision to Oklahoma's William Lam after the two wrestlers tied 1-1 in regulation time and 1-1 in overtime.

Oklahoma took the team title with a record 87 points. Michigan had 29.

Sault Sextet Wins Tourney

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Sault Ste. Marie clinched the National PeeWee amateur hockey championship Sunday by shutting out a Dearborn, Mich., team, 4-0.

Third place in the tournament went to Waterville, Maine, which clobbered the Illinois team, 7-0, in Sunday's finals.

Veteran Faces Jesse Smith

By The Associated Press
Luis Rodriguez, a familiar face to television boxing fans, will be featured again Friday night when he meets middleweight Jesse Smith of Philadelphia at Miami Beach in the television fight of the week.

The busy welterweight contender from Miami will be out to run his victory streak over heavier fighters to nine. Luis never has lost to a member of the 160-pound division although he usually spots the bigger boxers from five to 10 pounds.

It will be Rodriguez' second outing in two weeks against a middleweight. On March 20 he outpointed Holly Mims at New York's Madison Square Garden.

Rodriguez is getting in fighting trim for his third title fight with welterweight champion Emile Griffith of New York at Las Vegas June 12.

"I'm ready to fight any time my manager says," Luis said when told of the bout with Smith. "I can beat any middleweight around today. In another year I'm going to be the middleweight champion."

Willie Horton Bidding For Berth In Outfield

LAKE LAND, Fla. (AP)—Willie Horton is making it extremely difficult for manager Charley Dressen to consider him for anything less than a starting assignment in the Detroit Tigers' outfield.

The youngster is the hottest-hitting Tiger of the spring. He leads the team in home runs and runs batted in.

Horton had a home run in each of Sunday's games against the Chicago White Sox as the Tigers snapped a four-game losing streak with 2-1 and 3-0 victories. The second game lasted only seven innings.

The Tigers picked up only one hit in eight innings off Chicago's Ray Herbert and John Buzhardt in the first game.

Then, Bill Freehan was safe on an error by shortstop Ron Hanson to open the ninth and Horton, batting for pitcher Hal Koch, powered a low outside pitch over the right-field wall for the game-winning homer.

Horton got his fifth home run of the exhibition season in the third inning of the second game off Joel Horlen. This clout cleared the center-field fence, marking the third time he has hit for the circuit in the deepest part of the park. The run batted in was his 14th, six more than his closest competitor.

Dressen has been talking in terms of platooning Horton with Billy Bruton in left field. But the soft-spoken Horton has been doing his talking with his bat and it wouldn't be surprising to see him start there when the Tigers open two weeks from Tuesday.

Hank Aguirre pitched the first seven innings of the opener and gave up just five hits, three of them singles by Hanson.

Aguirre walked just one man, Dave Nicholson. That second inning walk was followed by singles by Joe Cunningham and Hanson and produced Chicago's only run of the afternoon.

Koch relieved Aguirre in the eighth and Hanson got his fourth single of the game in the ninth for the only hit of the lanky right-hander. It was the first hit off Koch in 7 2-3 innings of relief.

Mickey Lolich pitched a fifty two-hitter in the nightcap. The White Sox put two men on with none away in the third inning but Lolich worked out of the jam without a runner getting past second base.

The Tigers picked up their final two runs in the fifth on a single by Bill Roman and doubles by Purn Goldy and Mickey Stanley.

Frank Lary was scheduled to start against the Cincinnati Reds this afternoon. Ed Rakow was to pitch in a "B" game against the Reds this morning.

Untried Rookie Takes Over Net To Spark Wings

CHICAGO (AP)—Bob Champoux' first National Hockey League appearance came in a Stanley Cup game and it probably will be his last, at least for this season.

Despite the fact that the 21-year-old native of Montreal came out of the stands to inspire Detroit to a 5-4 victory over the Chicago Black Hawks, Champoux will be no more than a spare goalie for the rest of the playoffs.

Regular Terry Sawchuk was forced to leave Sunday night's game with a pinched nerve in his left shoulder after five minutes of the first period.

Champoux, who turned pro late last November and played with Cincinnati of the Central League where he allowed an average of 5.34 goals a game, was pressed into service.

When Champoux came on the ice, the Hawks had already taken eight shots at the Detroit goal while not allowing the Wings a crack at Glenn Hall.

But Champoux' presence changed all of that. With an untried rookie at the nets, the Wings went all out for the youngster. Through the rest of the first period, they allowed the Hawks only three more shots and then held them to an unbelievable two through the first 15 minutes of the second period.

Meanwhile, Norm Ullman picked up two goals and Andre Pronovost scored a third while Detroit was short handed for a 3-0 lead.

Bill Hay scored twice for the Hawks within a minute in the second period to cut Detroit's lead to a goal but Gordie Howe canned one with three seconds left for a 4-2 lead. Ullman completed his hat trick at 2:59 of the third period to offset goals by Eric Nesterenko at 4:01 and 4:34.

From then on the Hawks tried desperately to tie the score but were turned back by the fired-up Red Wings and their novice goalie.

There was no question that Champoux' appearance gave the Red Wings the boost they needed to tie the best-of-seven semifinal series at one game each.

While the Hawks and Wings resume their series in Detroit Tuesday night, the semifinal series between Montreal and Toronto shifts to Toronto the same night.

Montreal won its opener 2-0 Thursday but Toronto came back to tie it up Saturday with a 2-1 victory. The Hawks opened with a 4-1 decision over Detroit Thursday and appeared ready to pick up from there in the first five minutes Sunday night before Champoux showed up.

ON AND OFF—Howie Young, the game's bad boy when he was in the National Hockey League, has a new way of attracting attention with the Los Angeles Blades. Young came out for a game against Vancouver in Los Angeles wearing a Beatle-style wig. When the referee insisted that Young remove it, fresh sculptured Mohawk haircut was revealed.

Senate Checks Underworld Tie With Fight Game

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators ask more questions today about reports underworld figures hung around while Sonny Liston trained for his heavyweight championship fight with Cassius Clay.

They also want to know why Liston gave away stock, which brought $100,000 in profits from the Clay fight, to a man identified as a former associate of mobster Frank (Blinky) Palermo.

These questions came up as the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee sought to wind up its hearings into circumstances surrounding the Feb. 25 fight won by Clay when Liston failed to come out for the seventh round.

In the new development, Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., asked the Senate investigators to find out whether associates of Frankie Carbo had been in Clay's and Liston's Florida training camps. Carbo, now in prison, is former underworld czar of boxing.

The subcommittee met three days last week and only heard three of seven scheduled witnesses. Still remaining to be heard are:

Bob Nilon, brother of Liston's financial adviser, Jack, who was executive vice president of Inter-Continental Promotions Inc. a firm organized to promote Liston's championship fights.

Sam Margolis, Philadelphia vending machine operator identified by the subcommittee as once owning an apartment house with Palermo.

Witnesses last week testified that Liston signed over, apparently getting nothing in return, 275 of his 500 shares, 50 per cent stock control in Inter-Continental to Margolis.

Margolis has said he got the stock for helping Liston set up the deal to get a share of the fight's promotional profits, something fighters normally don't get.

Salvatore Avena, Philadelphia attorney who figured in organizing Inter-Continental and who later got 50 of the 275 shares of stock transferred to Margolis.

Illinois Team Wrestling Champ

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Southern Illinois University wrestled the NCAA gymnastics championship away from defending titlist Michigan Saturday night with spectacular performances in the final events—still rings and tumbling.

Southern Illinois collected a total of 84 1/2 points. Southern California edged Michigan for second, 69 1/2 to 65.

All-round honors in the meet went to the Trojans' Ron Barak with a total of 54.85. Penn State's Ed Isabelle was second with 52.72 and Michigan State's James Curzi third with 52.30. The Spartans finished eighth in the team totals with 23 1/2.

Mantle Back In Action; Slugs Pair Of Homeruns

By The Associated Press
Report No. 2 is in on Mickey Mantle, whose fate apparently hinges on tape.

Last Thursday, Mantle's case history had an expenditure for tape—to bandage his legs. Sunday, Mantle's case history had an expenditure for tape—to measure his homers.

Mantle, the New York Yankees' $100,000-a-year slugger with the dime store legs, raised his batting average to .318 Sunday by lifting two long drives over the fences at Tampa, Fla., in a 6-4 exhibition baseball victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

The homers were the first of the spring training grind for Mantle, who had been forced into a four-day layoff by his ailing legs. He had complained about his left knee-operated on during the winter for torn cartilage.

"I was running real good when I came down here, but I haven't been running good the last couple of days," Mantle said when he issued Report No. 1 Thursday.

He concentrated on trotting against the Reds. Both homers were hit with Mantle batting right-handed against southpaw

Joe Nuxhall, the first with a man on in the first inning traveling 350 feet and the second in the fifth with the bases empty rocketing 430 feet.

Report No. 2, however, still left doubts about the condition of Mantle's taped legs. In the field, he ran without any indication of lameness, but he let one hit fall in front of him instead of charging it in the Mantle manner.

compiling one of the oddest hitting records ever produced.

Horton connected for a pinch-hit homer in the ninth inning of the Tigers' 2-1 triumph over the Chicago White Sox in the opener of a doubleheader, then homered in the third inning of Detroit's 3-0 nightcap victory. Horton now has five homers.

Gotay collected two homers and two singles for five runs batted in as the Pirates walloped Philadelphia 13-4 while Harkness broke a hitless string that had extended to 16 at-bats by slamming a homer, doubling and single in the Mets' 8-3 beating of Washington.

Conigliaro led the Red Sox to a 6-4, 13-inning victory over the Los Angeles Angels with a homer, two triples and a double. The 19-year-old outfielder now has collected 15 hits—13 for extra bases. His batting average is .288; his slugging average .750.

In other games, St. Louis edged Milwaukee 6-5 in 11 innings. Kansas City defeated Houston 2-1, the Chicago Cubs outslugged San Francisco 11-7, Baltimore nipped the Colts' B team 2-1 and Cleveland downed the Angeles' B squad 7-6.

Howes Coach Of Year; Baraga Is Top Quint

By RAY CRANDALL
(Press Sports Editor)

HERMANVILLE—Escanaba and Holy Name each landed a player on the All-Upper Peninsula basketball selections which were made here Saturday by the Upper Peninsula Sportswriters Assn. at its annual spring meeting.

Escanaba placed Billy Eis on the Class A first team and Holy Name was represented by Frank Trotter on the Class B first team.

Two other area players were honored with first team berths by the writers from daily and weekly newspapers in the Peninsula. Ron Povo of Hermansville and Pat Groleau of Nahma made the honor squad in Class D.

Second team berths went to Ken Seibert and Jerry Hanson of Escanaba in Class A, Doug Moss of Rapid River and Jim Haight of Carney in Class D and Dave Bush of Stephenson in Class B.

Earning honorable mention in Class B were Bob Randall and Tom Watson of Gladstone, Craig Sundquist and Jim Dougovito of Stephenson, Ken Blowers, Jim McDonough, Jon Cameron and Tom Brawley of Manistique and Frank Stupak of Holy Name.

Named to the honorable mention list in Class D were Andy Freberg of Eben, Barry Rochefort of Garden, Wayne Lusardi of Trenary, Phil Hartman of Cooks, Cliff Perras, Bob Maccio and Mike Moran of Carney, Mike Nelson, Paul Behrend and Gary Gagne of Powers, Tony Cavadeas of Bark River, Gary Robbins of Perkins, Dick Gordon and Dan Vincent of Hermansville.

Howes Top Coach
The writers named Baraga the Upper Peninsula team of the year and Bill Howes of Rudyard coach of the year.

Eis was a 5 foot 9 inch sparkplug for Coach Harold Johnson's Eskymo club this season. He fired in 229 points during the campaign as the Eskymos compiled a record of 11 victories in 16 regular season starts.

Seibert was the tallest player in the Peninsula at 6 feet 7

Roland Pakonen of Ironwood. Bush of Stephenson was a deadly outside shooter for the Eagles, hitting 301 points as a sophomore guard. Barely missing a berth on the second team in Class B was Bob Randall, Gladstone's 6 foot senior who paced the Braves in scoring with 258 points this season.

Named to first team berths in Class C were Jon Fryxell of Houghton, Terry Salmi of Wakefield, Larry Makimaa of Ontonagon, Pat Murphy of Soo Loretto and Ted Sackch, a tall sophomore from Crystal Falls.

Groleau Topped List
Groleau headed an imposing list of Class D scoring stars. He won the regular season point crown in the Peninsula with 588 and finished the tournaments with 634. The 6 foot 5 inch senior had a career total of 1,926 in four years with the Arrows.

Povo paced Hermansville in scoring for the second year. The 5 foot 9 inch sharpshooter tossed in 553 points for Coach Don Hill's Redskins.

Moss is a 6 foot 1 inch junior at Rapid River and one of the best gunners in the region. He fired in 486 points for Coach Barney McCall's Rockets.

Haight, a 6 foot 1 inch senior, scored 362 points. Howes got the Coach of the Year nod in a spirited ballot battle. Nine coaches were nominated and Howes won on the fifth ballot over Bob Kuntze of Carney. Other mentors in the running were Carl Johnson of Baraga, Duane Phillips of Ishpeming, Ernie Toivonen of Mass, Jim Daniels of Wakefield, Fred Taccolini of Marquette, Gordon Farragh of Kingsford and Alan Dighera of Negaunee St. Paul.

Howes, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Howes Sr. of Gladstone, is a former outstanding Rudyard High School athlete and a graduate of Western Michigan University. In three years at Rudyard, Howes has guided his Bulldogs to 51 victories against 14 defeats. His teams have won the Upper Peninsula Class B championship the last two years.

Baraga got the Team of the Year honor and the George Rudness Memorial Trophy on the fifth ballot, edging Negaunee St. Paul. Other teams nominated were Wakefield, Ishpeming, Rudyard, St. Paul and Carney.

Baraga, a Class D school, won the Copper Country Conference in the regular season, defeated St. Paul in the U.P. regional at Northern and eliminated Pickford in the quarterfinals enroute to the state tournament championship game in which the Vikings bowed to Britton-Macon.

Sportswriters attending the meeting at Rodman's Bar were Ray Crandall of Escanaba, Dick Lorange of Houghton, Aldo Andreoli of Iron Mountain, Don Maki of Iron River, George Nelson of Ironwood, Bill Pelner of Menominee, Tom Pellow of Negaunee, Jim Trethewey and Chuck Gabel of Marquette, Herb Levin of Soo, Rudy Dalpra of Crystal Falls and Andy Gauthier of L'Anse.

Al Besselink Leads Azalea

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP)—It's been almost seven years since Al Besselink won a regular PGA circuit golf tournament. Not since the 1957 Kansas City Open has the big blond from Merchantville, N.J., won on the tour.

But he was 18 holes away from victory today as the final round of the $20,000 Azalea Open started. Besselink's par 72 Sunday after earlier rounds of 70-65 gave him a 207 total, nine under par, and a two-shot edge over Joe Campbell, the first round leader.

Asked how he planned to play the final 18 holes over the 6,744-yard Cape Fear Country Club course, Besselink replied:

"Well, I won't do any unnecessary gambling, but I certainly won't be playing safe. I've never been known to be a safe player. I won't do anything to jeopardize my lead, but I'll be firing at the hole."

"If I don't win, maybe next week it will be better or if not then, maybe the next week. I'm playing so well now that something has to bust."

Besselink picked up $400 in bonus money for leading after 54 holes to go along with $1,000 he pocketed Saturday for leading the second round and also shooting his low score.

He made only one birdie Sunday, but an eagle on the 565-yard third hole gave him his big push. He used his driver twice and then needed only a five-foot putt for the eagle.

Two traps and a hooked shot into the woods cost him three bogies.

Campbell, first day leader with 67, had slumped to 73 in the next round, but charged back with 69 for second place.

Named to the Class B all-tourney team were Pat Groleau of Nahma, Scholtz and Lemerand of Hermansville Joe's, DeMerse and Bob Fitzgibbon of Norway Merchants.

Aussie Netter Keeps Crown

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Roy Emerson of Australia exhibited a powerful service and accurate ground strokes in defeating Manuel Santana of Spain Sunday for the Good Neighbor Tennis Tournament title.

Emerson, who has not lost a singles match in the Good Neighbor since 1960, fought off a Santana rally in the first set, then assumed command for the match, 7-5, 6-4, 6-2.

Emerson and countryman Ken Fletcher won the doubles crown from Boro Javanovic and Nicola Pilić, Yugoslavia, 6-3, 6-8, 6-4.

Nancy Richey of Dallas, third-ranked U.S. woman player, defeated Stephanie de Fina of Hollywood for the women's crown, 6-4, 6-2.

Colleges Write Hockey Rules; Curb Canadians

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The Western Collegiate Hockey Association moved Saturday to curb the influx of Canadian players, and adopted a conference letter of intent.

The rule against Canadian Junior A players reads:

"Students who are Junior A registrants in the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association and who have participated in hockey after their 19th birthday with any non-collegiate or non-season school hockey team shall not be eligible in the Western Collegiate Hockey Association." This similarly goes into effect June 1.

The conference letter of intent, patterned after the inter-conference letter of intent now in effect, becomes effective June 15.

Also adopted were regulations limiting conference traveling squads to 17 players; limiting financial aid to nine new scholarships per year with no scholarship to exceed the cost of tuition, fees, books, board and room; and removing the restriction on organized practice in the fall.

Previously, WCHA teams could not hold organized drills before November 1.

Schultz described the changes as "a mutual attempt to solve our problems."

The WCHA has been split with internal strife in recent years over the use of Canadian players to a large extent by some schools. As a result, Michigan has refused to play Denver, and similar rifts have developed. Those two schools will meet next year, however.

Other member schools are Minnesota, North Dakota, Colorado College, Michigan State and Michigan Tech.

First Big Fair Held In London

NEW YORK (AP) — The World's Fair opening next month will be symbolized by the Unisphere, which stands for peace through understanding.

For years visitors will remember the huge stainless steel globe, showing all the continents and with three orbital rings.

There have been more than 30 world expositions since the first was held in London in 1851 and each has tried to be a little more lavish, dazzling and fantastic than the preceding.

The first fair was staged in an immense and remarkable building of iron and glass, dubbed the Crystal Palace and erected in London's Hyde Park.

It was made of 300,000 panes of glass and was so large—as long as six football fields—that fuel trees grew under its roof.

Fountain Perfumed
It was unlike any building that ever had been constructed before and provided a note of the fantastic that became essential in all subsequent fairs.

Opened by Queen Victoria, the show was an immense success from the beginning, attracting six million spectators during its 144-day run.

There were 100,000 exhibits and a multitude of fountains, one spraying eau de cologne to freshen the atmosphere. A new musical invention, called the saxophone, intrigued many visitors.

The Crystal Palace later was moved to the outskirts of London, where it remained until destroyed by fire in 1936.

The French International Exposition in Paris in 1889 offered immense exhibition space in two big halls, many fine art displays and a fountain that ejected artificial flowers.

President Ulysses S. Grant opened the Philadelphia Centennial Exposition in 1876. It was the first of the really mammoth fairs and its five large structures and more than 100 smaller ones occupied 60 acres.

Chicago In 1893
The Gallery of Art still survives and was the home of the Philadelphia Museum until it moved to its present site.

The nearly 10 million visitors got a look at another new invention, Thomas Edison's phonograph.

At Paris' Exposition Universelle in 1878, the noted actress, Sarah Bernhardt, became so enthralled by a balloon exhibit that she persuaded the balloonist to take her aloft for an aerial dinner and a broader look at the big show.

Paris put on another Exposition Universelle in 1889 and the 984-foot Eiffel Tower went up as the center attraction and the world's tallest structure.

Visitors to Chicago's Columbian Exposition in 1893 saw the electric light powered by a new generator created by George Westinghouse and got a chance to try the Ferris wheel, the dizziest of all rides up to that time.

The Pan American Exposition in Buffalo in 1901 featured an electric tower emphasizing the importance of electric power from nearby Niagara Falls.

A tragedy marred the show. President McKinley was shot by an assassin at the Temple of Music on Sept. 6 and died eight days later.

Auto Workers Pick California

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Delegates to the 1964 convention of the United Auto Workers Union voted overwhelmingly Thursday to hold their 1966 biennial convention in California.

After the voice vote, UAW President Walter Reuther said he took it as a mandate and instructed Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey to make arrangements for meeting in California two years hence.

Harnischfeger's Weld Rod Plant Goes To Indiana

Harnischfeger Corp. announced today at Milwaukee that it will move its welding electrode production to Monticello, Ind., and build a new multi-million dollar plant there.

Henry Harnischfeger, president of the Milwaukee-based heavy equipment firm, said that Monticello was selected for its welding products division after a study of more than 200 possible sites.

The transfer to Indiana will bring electrode production closer to rail centers, raw materials and major electrode markets. Monticello, about 100 miles southeast of Chicago, is on the Pennsylvania Railroad and only 70 miles from the steel centers of Gary and East Chicago.

Welding Products Division Vice President Bernard Pratte said that the building contract for the 140,000 square foot plant has been awarded and construction will begin immediately. The plant will have a new extruding oven for electrodes, new packaging equipment and facilities for the company's first cored wire line. Production of electrodes and cored wire is scheduled to begin on August 15th.

"We anticipate," said Pratte, "that our new plant will double the production potential of our old facilities. This will, of course, favorably affect our unit costs and make our line even more competitive."

"The plant will enable us to strengthen and expand our position in welding electrodes while providing the facilities for immediate entry into automatic and semi-automatic markets."

Present estimates place initial employment for the new plant at approximately 100 employees.

Harnischfeger's Welding Products Division, one of four major corporate divisions, is a leading manufacturer of welding machines, electrodes and cored wire. Among its products are special, high tensile, low hydrogen electrodes used on atomic submarine hulls. Harnischfeger also developed the first tape-controlled welding equipment for joining thin missile skins.

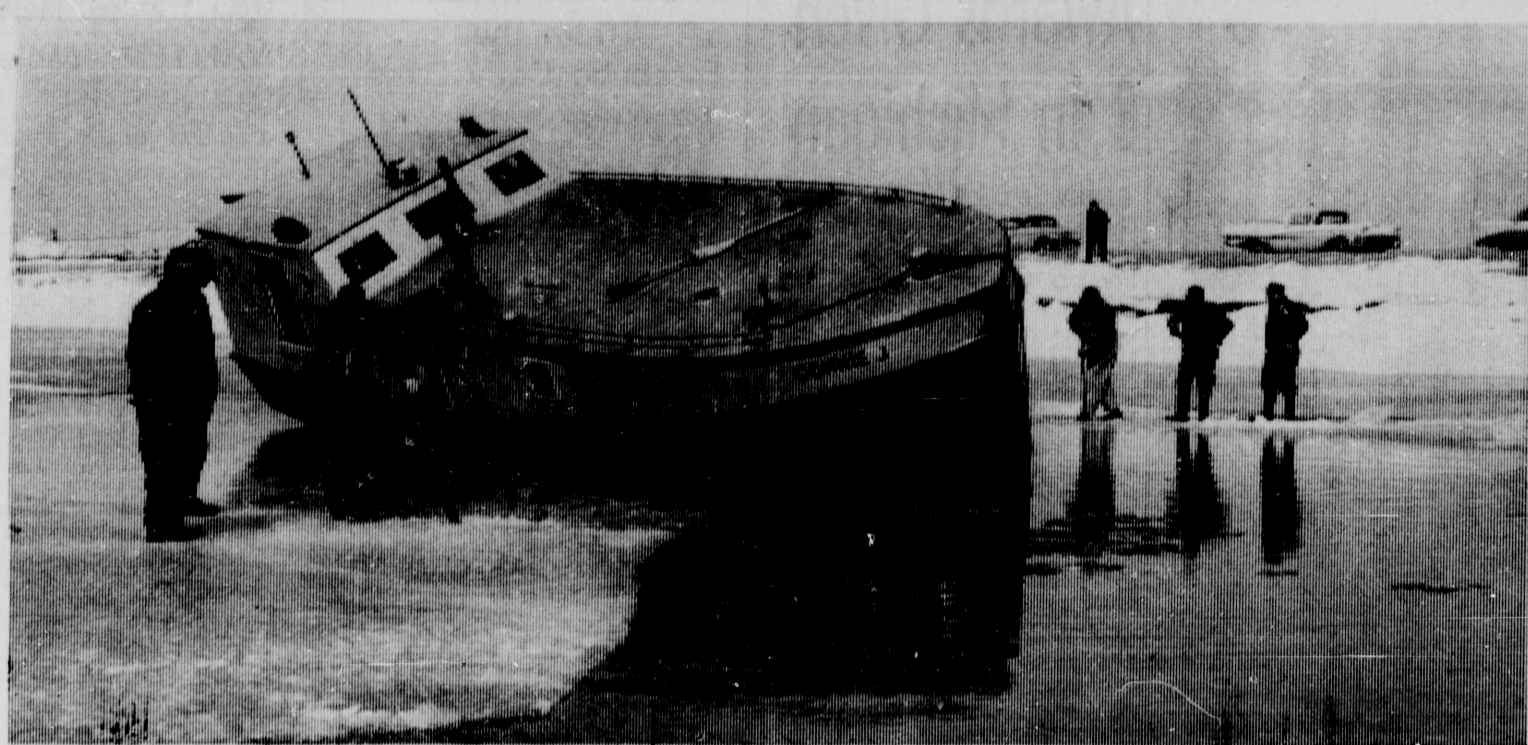

A research and development department to accelerate the development of a line of automatic and semi-automatic welding machines was established by the company in December. The division produces its static and rotary welding machines in Escanaba.

In addition to its Escanaba and Monticello plants, Harnischfeger has manufacturing facilities in West Milwaukee, and Port Washington, Wis., and Los Angeles. The firm is a major manufacturer of industrial cranes and hoists, construction and mining equipment, electrical products and manufactured homes.

Rice Crop Cut

JAKARTA (AP) — Indonesia expects to harvest only 9.5 million tons of rice this year due to a long drought—short of its originally anticipated 10.25 million tons, the official Antara news agency reported Sunday.

Mt. Kilimanjaro stands alone on the heat-scathed plain at the Tanganyika-Kenya border.

HAROLD OLSON'S tug the Connie J. was dragged to the edge of the ice on Saturday at the entry to the Escanaba Marina and the ice was then spudded to launch the vessel for the spring commercial fishing season. Commercial fishing in the area started on Sunday. First work for some fishermen was to drag for nets left under the ice-field. (Daily Press Photo)

Briefly Told

Walter C. Peters, superintendent of Rapid River Public Schools, had surgery at Memorial Hospital in Iron Mountain, for removal of his right eye, and is making satisfactory progress toward recovery. His room at Memorial is 127.

Escanaba firemen were called to the Gustafson Oil Co. terminal near the Chicago & North Western Railway ore dock at 6:12 p. m. Sunday, where a roof fire in the heater room caused slight damage.

James Boyer Jr., 8, the son of the James Boyers of 1422 N. 22nd St., was bitten on the face several times by a stray dog Sunday afternoon, it was reported to Escanaba police. The boy was treated by a physician. Police captured the dog and are holding it in the dog pound for rabies observation.

Stricken Area Starts Digging Out Of Rubble

— pronounced "Valdeez"—said many of the 32 dead were on a dock that collapsed when hit by a huge sea wave.

The sea waves also worked terrible and deadly destruction thousands of miles away, killing at least 16 persons in California and Oregon. Worst of these sufferers was Crescent City, Calif., more than 2,000 miles from the quake's epicenter. There 11 persons died and 15 were still missing.

Anchorage, center of the Alaskan recovery effort, went soberly about its business, flinching at successive after-shocks.

Separate Quake Felt

One shake, felt strongly in Anchorage Easter evening, was rated at 7.3 on the Richter scale of energy by the University of Washington at Seattle, 1,500 miles away. University scientists said it was a separate quake, in the Aleutian trench 600 miles northwest of Friday's epicenter, but Anchorage felt it with jittery apprehension.

An earlier mid-afternoon shock led to a civil defense warning of a new tidal wave headed for Seward. It was called off quickly, but people who had lived through Friday evening's terror fled to high ground.

The Friday evening quake was rated by experts at 8.2 to 8.7 on the Richter scale. This scale, measuring the release of energy, has never before rated a quake higher than 8.6 and then only rarely and in unpopulated places.

Water Boiled

Anchorage wholesale grocers estimated they had about a 30-day stock of essential foods on hand—mostly in wrecked warehouses, but still usable.

Electric current was being restored slowly. Many homes and buildings were without light heat or power.

Drinking water had to be boiled or melted from snow. Mass typhoid inoculations were arranged.

Police, soldiers and National guardsmen, patrolling downtown Anchorage, reported no cases of attempted looting.

Workers started pulling down teetering four-ton slabs of the modernistic five-story J. C. Penney store and other dangerous ruins. Dynamiting was considered and rejected.

A civil defense official said, "It is still possible some victims are in the rubble. We might not get to some for quite a while."

SIGN SAYS WELCOME

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Electricity was partly restored in this quake-ravaged city and an illuminated street sign blinked on:

"Welcome to Anchorage: All-American City."

RED CROSS BUSY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Red Cross says about 20,000 inquiries about the health and welfare of persons in the Alaskan earthquake zone had been received at national headquarters and at various Red Cross chapters.

The Red Cross said Sunday the inquiries have been sent to the Seattle office for handling, but that replies might be slow because of communication problems.

Briefly Told

The Exchange Club will meet at the Olson Transportation Co., 503 Ludington St., at 7 p. m. Tuesday. Members are asked to bring scissors and be prepared for a "Rags to Riches" work-bee.

Harry P. Jamar of 1200 S. 19th St., suffered an injury to his chin in an accident at 12th Ave. S. and 23rd St. at 10:30 a. m. Sunday, according to Escanaba police. Jamar's light truck went out of control and struck a utility pole, breaking it off. He was ticketed for making an improper turn.

U. P. Seats In Lansing Shaky

State Senator Kent Lundgren, in Escanaba today with Nicholas J. Rini of Detroit Board of Commerce arranging a summer cruise to the Upper Peninsula, said that the apportionment controversy at Lansing is so scrambled that it is impossible to determine what's coming out of it.

He said he agreed with Governor Romney that something must be done at once.

Senator Lundgren said that there had been uncertainty before about boundaries for the 5 legislative representative districts and the three state senator districts for the Upper Peninsula. But now, he said "We don't even know that we're going to have 5 representatives and 3 senators from the Upper Peninsula."

"We could have only one and a half senators from the U. P. and only 3 representatives. The Supreme Court is expected to rule on it by April 15."

He said that it would be helpful if the federal courts could agree on the law which will control the situation. It is further complicated by U. S. Supreme Court rulings colling for substantially equal population in congressional districts.

The new Michigan Constitution set up a formula of state senate apportionment on a basis of 80 per cent population and 20 per cent area. The House apportionment is on population only but allowing a 75-125 variance. The Legislature has got to act swiftly to create legislative and senatorial districts setting perch nets for the spring fishing season.

Harold Olson's Connie J. was launched on Saturday and readied for the start of fishing when it was moved across harbor ice and launched by cutting the ice near the edge of the field. It was launched at the entry to the Escanaba Marina after being moved over the ice.

Escanaba area commercial fishermen will be fishing perch until the close of the perch season April 15 and whitefish. The opening is about normal in time.

Margaret Zell was the real name of Mati Hari, famous woman spy of World War I.

Detroit Cruise To Visit Sault And Marquette

Nicholas J. Rini of the Greater Detroit Board of Commerce was in Escanaba today enroute to Marquette to arrange for the visit there in June of the cruise ship South American with 300 to 400 members of the Board.

The cruise will leave Detroit June 10, arrive at the Soo the next afternoon and remain until 10 p. m.; arriving in Marquette at 8:30 a. m. Friday and leaving at 8 p. m. for Mackinac Island, where it will arrive at 1:30 p. m. Saturday and leave at 6 p. m.

The Marquette stop will include a luncheon at Northern Michigan University at which the cruisers will host business leaders of the Upper Peninsula and pursue the cruise theme of "Seeing what's happening in the Upper Peninsula." The cruisers were on the St. Lawrence last year.

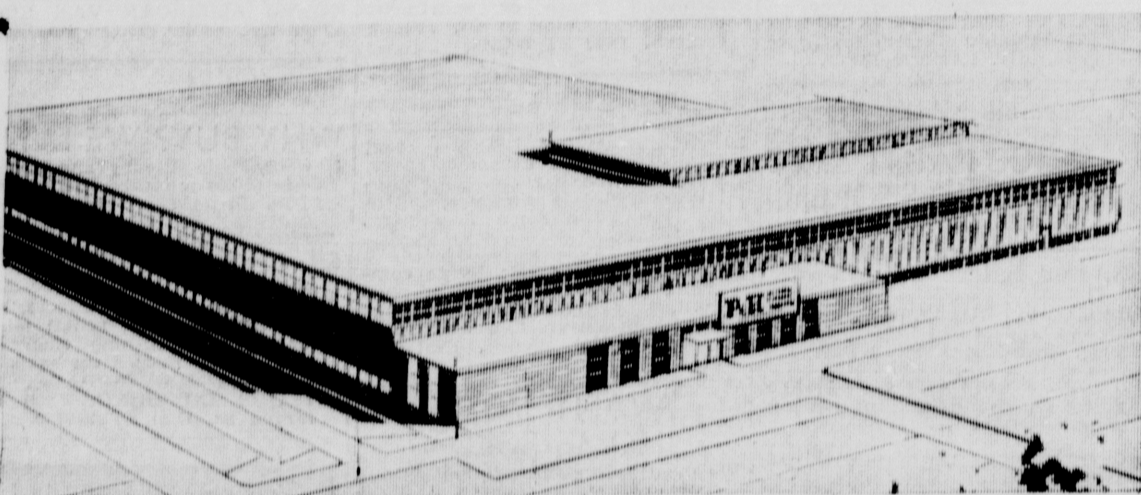

Rini said a bus trip to Escanaba and Menominee might be arranged for some of the cruisers.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kroll of Wells and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Gregoire of Marquette spent the Easter holidays in Milwaukee with relatives.

for the fall election after the State Supreme Court sets guide lines.

The Legislature must also create 19 congressional districts on order of a federal court, or have the 19 Michigan congressmen elected at large.

THIS IS AN architect's sketch of the new plant which Harnischfeger Corp. will build at Monticello, Ind., to house its Welding Electrode Division, being moved from Milwaukee. One of Harnischfeger's Escanaba plants makes the welding machines which use the rods and cored wire to be made at Monticello. The building will provide 140,000 square feet of space for the new multi-million dollar plant.
